PREFACE.

IT was far from my thoughts, when searching for a family line, to extend the work to its present proportions. It did not occur to me, in the beginning, that the family was so large and could be classed with the old American families. As investigations progressed, interest increased, until it became my desire to make as complete a Genealogy of the family as possible. I felt that a family which had given to Massachusetts a Governor, and to the Nation one of its most eminent merchants, deserved a written history.

In preparing this volume, a correspondence has been carried on extending to every part of the United States and requiring several thousand letters.

An earnest effort has been made to make the work as complete and accurate as possible. In addition to many private records, many town, church, probate and other public records have been consulted, as well as gravestones in ancient cemeteries. Undoubtedly errors will be found, arising from incorrect information furnished by persons relying too much upon memory. As to whatever errors there may be, I must say of them as the sacred volume says of offenses (Luke, xvii, 1): "It is impossible but that offenses will come."

The Genealogy is arranged in generations. Individuals are numbered consecutively in order of birth at the left of the name. When the number of the individual is preceded by the mark +, the reader will look to the next succeeding generation, where the same number will be repeated and the family of this individual given. The number without the mark + signifies that the individual died young or unmarried, or that we have no further knowledge of this person. As an example, suppose we wish to know the history of AARON CLAFLIN. Consulting the index we find AARON, page 183. Turning to page 183 we discover what is known of AARON<sup>6</sup>. The superior figure <sup>6</sup> denotes that he is of the sixth generation from Robert Mackclothlan, and the parenthetical names (John<sup>5</sup>, John<sup>4</sup>, Ebenezer<sup>3</sup>, Daniel<sup>2</sup>, Robert<sup>1</sup>) are the chain of his ancestors. Glancing at his children we observe that they were eight in number. Three of these, George William, Mary L. and John Henry, do not have the + at the left of their names; of these no further mention is made. The other five children have the + at the left of their names, consequently, in the next generation, the history of these persons is given.

If we desire to find AARON's ancestors, we look back in the preceding generation to where 665 occurs in consecutive order under "Children." We find it on page 85, there we note that AARON<sup>6</sup> was the son of John<sup>5</sup>, whose number is 244. In like manner this John's father is discovered.

My hope is that this work will stimulate a love for the ties of kindred and for the memory of worthy ancestors.

CHARLES HENRY WIGHT,

MAY, 1903.

FIRST GENERATION

Robert<sup>1</sup> Mackclothlan.

IN the records of the town of Wenham,* Mass., is the following entry: "4th of November, 1661, Robert Mackclothlan is accepted a townsman." From Robert have descended the Claflin family.

Interest in Genealogy is widespread and increasing with each generation. We may talk of equality and the vanity of family pride, but a knowledge of the history of our ancestors and the part they have contributed to the building up of our country inspires patriotism and increases our admiration and love for those who have made possible the goodly heritage we now enjoy. How few can realize now, in these days of prosperity and opulence, how hard it was for the early settlers to gain a foothold on the rugged New England coast. Winters of cold and famine were followed by summers of burning heat. Indian wars brought death and desolation. The struggle was intense. The graves were many. But from it all emerged the folk of New England, the builders of the Nation. They had few of the comforts of life as we now consider them. The wind howled through the crevices in their early homes, poorly heated by the blazing logs in the chimney fireplaces. Churchgoing meant often miles of travel on horseback or on foot, including in winter long hours of sitting in a bitterly cold edifice. The early settlers had to depend on their individual labor and skill to furnish lights, soap, dyes, shoes and the materials from which they were made, furniture, kitchen utensils and farm tools.

*Wenham lies in the southeasterly part of Essex County, Mass., twenty-two miles northeast of Boston. It was first settled in 1639, and was originally a part of Salem. By the early settlers it was called Enon. The town was incorporated May 10, 1643, and named from Wenham, Sussex County, England.

In all the administration of domestic affairs the women, by their zealous care of the household and their patient endurance of hardship, as well as their kindly thought for their neighbors, were no less distinguished than the men in their affairs. The wonder is that from such a start so much could have been accomplished.

When and where Robert Mackclothlan landed in this country may never be determined. An exhaustive search of the early records of Essex and Suffolk counties, Mass., reveals no record earlier than Nov. 4, 1661. According to the custom of those days, no person was admitted to citizenship unless he had lived for some time in the community and was acceptable to the townsmen. Thus it follows that Robert must have been in this country prior to 1661. In various branches of the family the tradition is that he was a Scotch soldier. It is quite probable that Robert was one of the Scotch prisoners captured by Cromwell at the Battle of Dunbar, some of whom were sent by him to New England. Upon their arrival their services were sold for a term of years.

A list of names of the Scotch prisoners who came in the Sara and John November, 1651, has been preserved. (Suffolk Deeds, Vol. 1.) These prisoners were probably captured at the Battle of Worcester, Sept. 3, 1651. They should not be confounded with those captured at Dunbar Sept. 3, 1650, who arrived at an earlier date and are referred to by Rev. John Cotton, minister at Boston, in his letter of May 26, 1651, to the Lord General Oliver Cromwell, as follows:

"The Scots whom God delivered into your hands at Dunbarre, and whereof sundry was sent hither, we have been desirous (as we could) to make their yoke easy. Such as were sick of the scurvy and other diseases have not wanted physick and chyrurgery. They have not been sold for slaves to perpetual servitude, but for 6, 7 or 8 years, as we do our owne, and he that bought most of them (I heare) buildeth houses for them—for every four an house, layeth some acres of ground hereto, which he giveth them as their owne, requiring 3 dayes in the weeke to worke for him (by turns) and four dayes for them themselves, and promiseth as soone as they can repay him the money he layed out for them, he will set them at liberty."

Some of these prisoners were indentured to the Lynn Iron Works, then the most important industrial enterprise in the country. Wenham is but a few miles from Lynn. The records show that on the same day that Robert Mackclothlan was admitted a townsman, Nov. 16, 1661, Edmund Bridges, who is known to have been connected with the Lynn Iron Works, was granted land at Wenham. The soldierly qualities of Robert are evidenced by his services under Sir Edmund Andros against the French and Indians. All known facts support the theory that Robert was one of Cromwell's Scotch prisoners.

Robert's name was probably Maclachlan. Mr. George F. Black, an authority of high repute, gives in the following letter reasons for this conjecture:

NEW YORK, Sept 25, 1901

C. H. WIGHT.

DEAR SIR: After mature consideration I have arrived at the conclusion that the name "Mackclothlan" is an attempt at the spelling of the Scottish surname Maclachlan or Maclauchlan (for the name is spelled both ways in Scotland at the present day) by one unacquainted with the Gaelic language. In the public records of Scotland between the years 1553 and 1647 the name Maclachlan is spelled in no less than twelve different ways, viz: Makclachlane (1553), Maklauchlane (1554), M'Clachlene (1590), Maklauchlane (1591), McLauchlane (1618), M'Lauchlane and M'Clauchlane (1619), M'Lauchan (1621), McClauchlan (1622), McLauchlane (1625), M'Clachlane (1643), M'Claichlane (1647).

The name is also common in Ireland at the present day, under the form MacLaughlin, and it is in old Irish records that we find the earliest spelling of the name. The unanimous opinion of Celtic scholars is that the first bearers of the name were of Norse or Scandinavian origin. Thus in the "Annals of the Four Masters" (a great chronicle of Irish history) under the year 1060 we have mention of Lochlainn MacLochlainn, where Lochlainn is the genitive case of Lochlann, meaning "Lake-land" (Scandinavia), the name given to the fjord-indented coast of Norway by the Gaels. So also in the "Chronicon Scotorum," under the year 1084 we find mention of a "Domhnall mac Mic Loclairinn"—that is, Donald the son of the son of Scandinavia.

In Scotland the chief seat of the Clan Lachlan or Maclachlan was in Cowal, Argyllshire, the lands of which were acquired by Gilleskel Mac Lachlan in 1292, and as early as 1314 we find their stronghold there referred to as "Castellachlan," i. e., Castle Lachlan.

Although in the preceding paragraph I have referred somewhat particularly to the old family of Maclachlan, of Cowal, I do not wish to be understood as suggesting any relationship between them and the Mackclothlan of 1661. For, long after surnames were introduced, they were used only by the great and powerful families, and when they began to be assumed by the lower orders the clansman almost invariably took the name of his chief, considering himself a member of his family, at least by adoption, if not by any closer tie.

I remain,

Yours very truly,

GEORGE F. BLACK,

Assistant Librarian, Astor Library.

In 1669 Robert received the following grant of land:

"Granted to Robert Mackclaffin the town's right in that parcel of upland formerly granted him (upon condition), always provided it be only to himself for his own proper use for the time of his continuance in the town and then to return to the town's disposing."

Four years later, 1673, he sold his house and farm to the town for a parsonage, taking about fifteen acres of land in exchange. In this deed he is described as a husbandman.

Robert was at one time chosen surveyor of highways, a fact which shows that he was held in esteem by his fellow citizens. The house that he built in Wenham, or a portion of it, is still standing in a good state of preservation. The old well situated near the house is still in use, supplying excellent water. The records of the transfers of this property have been traced to the present time, showing that it is the identical property once owned by Robert. It is now owned by a family named Richards.

He married Joanna Warner Oct. 14, 1664. The Warner family was at that time one of the leading families of Essex County. Joanna was probably daughter of John Warner,* who was one of

WARNER FAMILY.

*John Warner was born in England about 1616. Came to New England with his father, William, brother Daniel and sister Abigail in 1637, and settled in Ipswich, Mass. He married Priscilla, daughter of Mark and Joanna Symonds. In 1665 he moved to Brookfield, being one of its earliest settlers. After the destruction of the town by the Indians, 1675, he took refuge in Hadley, where his son Mark had settled, and where he died, May 17, 1697. The records do not name Joanna as a child of John, but she bore the name of John's mother-in-law, and Robert and Joanna named their daughters Priscilla and Abigail, the names of John's wife and sister. Mark, the son of John, was appointed guardian of Priscilla and Abigail, the orphan daughters of Robert, and they lived with him at Hadley, where they were married. These facts make it probable that Joanna, the wife of Robert Mackclothlan, was the daughter of John Warner.

the early settlers of Ipswich, Mass., and afterward one of the founders of Brookfield, Mass.

CHILDREN.

- + 2 Joanna, born at Wenham, Aug. 12, 1665.
- + 3 Robert, no record of his birth being found at Wenham,
he was probably born at Brookfield.
- + 4 Elizabeth, born at Wenham, May 18, 1670.
- + 5 Priscilla, " " Aug. 22, 1672.
- + 6 Daniel, " " Jan. 25, 1674.
- + 7 Abigail, " " March 19, 1676.
- + 8 Mary, " " Feb. 22, 1678.
- + 9 Antipas, " " 1680.

No record of the death of Joanna, the mother, has been found. It is certain, however, that she died before her husband, for in the settlement of Robert's estate no mention is made of her.

Robert died prior to Sept. 19, 1690, on which date an inventory of his estate was filed by Thomas Fiske, administrator, June 30, 1691.

- 11 Samuel, born March 13, 1690.
- 12 Thankful, born May 13, 1692; married Jedidiah Winchell, 1710.
- 13 Mindwell, born Feb. 28, 1695; died 1705.

- 17 Mindwell, born March 5, 1705.
- 18 Mercy, born July 5, 1706.

3 Robert<sup>2</sup> (Robert<sup>1</sup>); no record of his birth has been found. He was one of the quota of Rowley, Mass., in the expedition against Quebec under Sir William Phipps, 1690. He died in this service. For his services in this expedition the town of Rowley (May 6, 1691) awarded to his administrator, Capt. Thomas Fisk, £4 12s. 7d. His inventory, filed June 30, 1691, is as follows:

*According to Judd's history of Hadley (p. 580), Joanna's name at her marriage was spelt McLathlin. Samuel, her husband, was son of Samuel and grandson of Henry Smith, a clergyman who, born in England, came to Plymouth, Mass., about 1636. From there he removed to Watertown, Mass., and thence to Weathersfield, Conn., where he became the first settled minister. He died there, 1648.

"THE ESTATE OF ROBERT CLAFLIN, JR.

"To working tools, 14s and his wages from the country £4-12<sup>s</sup>-7<sup>d</sup>; total, £5-6<sup>s</sup>-7<sup>d</sup>."

This amount was included in the estate of Robert, the father, showing that Robert, the son, had died prior to his father without issue.

4 Elizabeth<sup>2</sup> (Robert<sup>1</sup>), born in Wenham, Mass., May 18, 1670; married Thomas Wells, of Ipswich, Mass. In the settlement of the estate of Robert Mackelaflin, father of Elizabeth, Thomas Wells, of Ipswich, on May 20, 1698, receipts for the share of Elizabeth, his wife. Nothing further has been found regarding this family.

5 Priscilla<sup>2</sup> (Robert<sup>1</sup>), born at Wenham, Mass., Aug. 22, 1672. Judd, in his history of Hadley, states that about 1693 Jeremiah Webb married Priscilla McLathlin. An entry in the Essex County records states that Jeremiah Webb, of North Hampton, in Hampshire County, and wife, Priscilla, conveyed to Josiah Dodge, of Wenham (tanner), land in Wenham neck, "being part of estate of our father Robert Claflin (of which Thomas Fiske is administrator), April 26, 1695." Acknowledged by grantor and his wife, April 26, 1695. (Essex Deeds, Book 19, Leaf 148.) The date of Priscilla's death is not known. Jeremiah died March 5, 1734.

CHILDREN.

- 19 Joanna, born March 16, 1694; died in three weeks.
- 20 Priscilla, born August, 1695.
- 21 Esther, born Dec. 23, 1697.
- 22 Josiah, born March 28, 1700; died aged 23.

6 Daniel<sup>2</sup> (Robert<sup>1</sup>), born at Wenham, Mass., Jan. 25, 1674. Married Sarah Edwards* at Wenham, March 11, 1701. He was a tanner and lived in his native town until some time subsequent to May 25, 1722, when he conveyed to Emerson Cogswell, of Ipswich (for the consideration of £80), his home, bark mill and tan vat, and material for carrying on the trade of tanner, together with about three acres of land. After this he moved with his family to Hopkinton.† In the affairs of this town he took an active and prominent part. He was selectman in 1727. In 1729 he was chosen treasurer of the town, which office he held for several consecutive years, an evidence of the high esteem in which he was held by his fellow townsmen. His wife, Sarah, died in Hopkinton, Jan. 8, 1743. He died in Framingham, Mass., 1775, "old and increpid."

†Hopkinton is situated in the extreme southwestern corner of Middlesex County, about thirty miles southwest of Boston. The town was named in honor of Edward Hopkins, a merchant of London, who was Governor of Connecticut 1640, 1646, 1648, 1650, 1652 and 1654, after which time he returned to England, where he died, Dec. 5, 1657, bequeathing a portion of his estate "for the breeding up of youth, in the way of learning for the public service of the country in future time," and "for the upholding and promoting the kingdom of the Lord Jesus Christ in New England."

In the year 1715 this legacy, then amounting, with interest, to £800, was expended in the purchase of the territory since known as Hopkinton. This land was leased at three pence sterling per acre per annum. The revenue was devoted to the uses of Harvard College. The town was incorporated Dec. 24, 1715.

She was born in Milford, April 10, 1806. He commenced his business career at the age of twenty-one, when his father took him into partnership in the general store. About 1830, the manufacture of boots and shoes having been introduced into Milford, he became interested in the sale of these goods, making frequent trips to New York City for this purpose, until, in 1842, he opened a store there which he continued until his death. Successful in business, he became one of the largest boot and shoe jobbers in the country. The business is now carried on by his grandsons, Edward C. Thayer, Charles A. Claflin and John C. Thompson. Aaron was a member of the Massachusetts House of Representatives in 1835. In 1844 he removed to Brooklyn, N. Y., where he resided until his death. Although a resident of Brooklyn, he did not lose his love for and interest in Milford. To the success and welfare of his native town he contributed largely of his means and time. 667 Horace Brigham<sup>6</sup> (John<sup>5</sup> John<sup>4</sup> Ebenezer<sup>3</sup> Daniel<sup>2</sup> Robert<sup>1</sup>), born at Milford, Mass., Dec. 18, 1811. He was educated at the common school and at the Mendon Academy. In 1830 he commenced his business career, keeping a general store in Milford, Mass. In 1833 he opened a dry goods store in Worcester, Mass. In 1843 he moved to New York City, where he founded the wholesale dry goods business, that through his industry, ability and sagacity became the largest business of its kind in the world. For forty years one of the strong and influential characters in the business circles of New York City, he was an important factor in establishing and maintaining the commercial supremacy of the metropolis.

He was early identified with the anti-slavery movement and an ardent Republican from the foundation of the party. He was a Republican Presidential elector in 1872. He was a firm friend of the Union cause during the Civil War, and gave, without stint, of his time and means for the support of the Government. To the Union soldiers he was always a true friend. In recognition of this the Horace B. Claflin Post, G. A. R. was named for him. For thirty-eight years a member of the Board of Trustees of Plymouth Church, Brooklyn, and for the most of this time the president of the board, he was largely instrumental with its pastor—Henry Ward Beecher—in making this church famous for its good works. He was warm-hearted and without vanity. Many enjoyed his friendship, his advice, his encouragement and his assistance.

None ever had a friend more true, loyal and unselfish. In his charities he was generous without ostentation.

Nov. 28, 1836, he married Agnes Sanger, daughter of Calvin and Anna (Phipps) Sanger, of Sherborn, Mass. (see Appendix). His home life was remarkable for its atmosphere of filial love and devotion, unselfish spirit and perfect harmony. He was an ideal husband and father in every sense and particular. He died at Fordham, N. Y., Nov. 14, 1885, leaving a name honored and respected throughout our land. To him could be applied with perfect truth these lines of Kipling:

“Scarce had he need to cast his pride
Or slough the dross of earth,
E’en as he trod that day to God
So walked he from his birth,
In simpleness and gentleness and honor and clean mirth.”

His widow resides (1902) at Brooklyn, N. Y.

UNCONNECTED CLAFLINS.

The Family of Levi Claflin. According to the records in the office of the Secretary of State, Massachusetts, Levi Claflin died at Attleborough, Mass., January, 1842, aged seventy-four years. This would make his birth 1767-68. I have not been able to find the record of Levi's birth nor to ascertain who were his parents, although I have made a long and exhaustive search.

Ebenezer and Bethia Claflin (Page 32) had a son, Allen. Ebenezer Allen Claflin (Page 99) was their great-grandson. Levi had a grandson, Moses Allen Claflin. This use of the name Allen, which appears nowhere else in the Claflin family, suggests the probability that Levi was the youngest child of Ebenezer and Bethia. The date of birth of Levi coincides with this conjecture. That the record of Levi and his descendants may be preserved I give them herewith.

Levi was born 1767. By his first wife, whose name has not been ascertained, he had

The Family of James Claflin—At Boston, in 1838, four orphan boys, Charles, Edward, George and James McLaughlin, were committed to the City Orphan Asylum. James, one of these orphans, at the age of ten years was indentured to Richard Farwell, who gave him the name Claflin. It will be thus seen that James and his descendants, although using the name Claflin, are not related to the Claflin family. What became of the brothers of James has not been ascertained. The following is the record of James and his family:

James Claflin, married Sarah A. Balcolm at Marlboro, Mass., Nov. 25, 1866.

EAMES FAMILY.

Thomas Eames was born in England about 1618. Came to America as early as 1634; was a soldier in the Pequod War in 1637; was in Dedham, Mass., 1640; was in Medford, Mass., occupying the watermill in 1652 to 1659; was in Cambridge, Mass., owning a house and eight acres of land east of Cambridge Common, which he sold, Feb. 10, 1664, to Nicholas Withe. He removed soon after to Sudbury, Mass., where he built a house and barn on the southern declivity of Mt. Wayte, in what is now Framingham Centre, Mass. During King Phillip's War, on Feb. 1, 1676, while Thomas was in Boston to secure help and a supply of ammunition, a party of Indians suddenly attacked his family, burned his house, barn and cattle, killed his wife and four children, and carried the rest off to captivity. His eldest son, John, resided then in Watertown, and consequently did not suffer from this raid. On the spot where this calamity occurred are now held the summer meetings of the New England Chautauqua Society. The inventory of his losses presented to the General Court with the petition for indemnity shows the amount to be £330 12s., a large sum for those days. Thomas survived the affliction but a few years, and died Jan 25, 1680, aged about sixty-two years.

SANGER FAMILY.

Among the passengers that embarked on the ship Confidence, sailing from Southampton, England, in April, 1638, was Richard<sup>1</sup> Sanger. The name was not common in England at that time, and has not been since. It is of German origin, signifying "a minstrel." Richard's age is given in the ship's papers as eighteen years—showing that he was born in 1620. He first settled in Sudbury, Mass., for we find him of record there in 1639 working as a blacksmith. In 1649 Richard removed to Watertown, Mass. About that date he married Mary Raynolds, daughter of Richard Raynolds, of Boston. Their first child, Mary, was born in Watertown in 1650. By the will of Richard Raynolds, of Boston, April 20, 1658, a portion of his estate is left to his daughter, Mary, wife of Richard Sanger, of Watertown. During King Phillip's War the charge of guarding the mill at Watertown was given to Richard, his two sons and three others. Richard died in Watertown, Aug. 20, 1690.

Richard<sup>2</sup> (Richard<sup>1</sup>), born in Watertown, Feb. 22, 1667; settled in Sherborn, Mass., in 1688. Married Elizabeth Morse, daughter of Daniel and Elizabeth (Barbour) Morse, in 1697. She was born Oct. 29, 1677. He died in Sherborn, April 1, 1731.

Sherborn; also a member from Sherborn in the Middlesex Convention, held at Concord, Aug. 3, 1774. He was a member of the Committee of Correspondence for several years during the Revolutionary War, and was a member from Sherborn in the Second Provincial Congress, held at Cambridge in 1775. He died in Sherborn, May 14, 1786. She died Aug. 15, 1789, aged seventy-nine years.

Samuel<sup>1</sup> (Richard<sup>3</sup> Richard<sup>2</sup> Richard<sup>1</sup>), born in Sherborn, July 7, 1735. Married 1st Mary Fairbanks, Jan. 6, 1757. She died. He married 2d Abigail Whiting, of Dover, Mass., April 7, 1762. She was born 1739. He was a very influential man in his day and generation. He was a member of the Committee of Public Safety from the town of Sherborn in 1777. He was active in all measures pertaining to the Revolutionary War, and it was largely through his energy and zeal that Sherborn during the war excelled any town of its size in Massachusetts in the number of volunteers and promptness in furnishing supplies. He is said to have once entertained Washington at his house. The famous "Porter" apple, well known in New England, is said to have been first produced by him. She died in Sherborn, Oct. 3, 1788. He died there Oct. 6, 1822.

Calvin<sup>5</sup> (Samuel<sup>1</sup> Richard<sup>3</sup> Richard<sup>2</sup> Richard<sup>1</sup>), born in Sherborn, Oct. 10, 1768. Married Anna Phipps, daughter of Jedediah and Sarah (Learned) Phipps. She was born Nov. 15, 1778. Calvin took a leading part in the affairs of the town. In 1806 he was elected a member from Sherborn to the General Court, and for thirty years following he was annually elected either to the House of Representatives or to the Senate almost without opposition. He was elected Justice of the Peace in 1806; was elected Town Clerk in 1800 and for twenty-five successive years. Although not educated to the law, he became of such high reputation in all matters pertaining to law that he was called upon to arbitrate and settle contests of the largest importance in those days. Throughout the whole of Eastern Massachusetts his judgment was sought and depended upon. He died in Sherborn, Nov. 5, 1835. She died Dec. 3, 1867.

DANIELS FAMILY.

The name Daniel was and still is quite common in England. It is spelled Daniel or Daniels, according to the carelessness or caprice of different generations. With few exceptions, the early wills and documents in this country have the name Daniel; the "s" has been added by recent generations.

Robert<sup>1</sup> and his wife, Elizabeth, were the first of the family in this country. They came from England and settled in Watertown, Mass., about 1636. Robert was one of the original grantees of Sudbury, Mass., in 1638-39. He was admitted freeman March 14, 1639. His original homestead, consisting of about thirteen acres, is now comprised in the site of the United States Arsenal at Watertown. Elizabeth died at Cambridge, Oct. 2, 1643. Robert died at Cambridge, July 6, 1665.

Joseph<sup>2</sup> (Robert<sup>1</sup>), son of Robert and Elizabeth, born in Watertown 1635. Was accepted as a townsman in Medfield, Mass., in 1662. Married Mary, daughter of George and Mary (Adams) Fairbanks, in Medfield, Nov. 16, 1665. She was born Sept. 9, 1647.

During King Phillip's War Medfield was burned by the Indians, and Joseph's house and buildings were destroyed. Joseph was three years a Selectman of Medfield. He taught school in Medfield in 1700. With his son, Joseph, he was among the petitioners for the founding of the new town of Medway, Mass. His residence was in that part of Medway now called Millis. Mary died June 9, 1682. Joseph died June 23, 1715.

Joseph<sup>3</sup> (Joseph<sup>2</sup> Robert<sup>1</sup>), son of Joseph and Mary, born in Medfield, Sept. 23, 1666. Was one of the founders of Medway, Mass., in 1713. He married Rachel Partridge, daughter of John and Magdalen (Bullard) Partridge. He died Jan. 14, 1739.

MAYFLOWER ANCESTRY OF MARY ATWOOD.

Among the passengers who came to this country in the Mayflower, arriving at Plymouth, Dec. 22, 1622, were:

Francis Cooke. He was one of the signers of the Mayflower compact. There came with him a son, John. His wife came in the Ann, 1623, with other children.

His son, Josias, married, in 1635, Elizabeth, widow of Stephen Deane, and moved to Eastham. They had, among other children, Anne, or Anna.

Stephen Hopkins He was one of the signers of the Mayflower compact. With him in the Mayflower was his second wife, Elizabeth, with her two children and two servants, Edward Doty and Edward Lister, and two children by a former wife, viz., Giles and Constance.

Constance, in 1627, married Nicholas Snow, who came in the Ann, 1623. They had Mark, born 1628.

Anne, or Anna, Cooke and Mark Snow married, Jan. 18, 1655. They had Anne, or Anna, born July 7, 1656.

Anne, or Anna, Snow married Eldad Atwood, Feb. 14, 1683.

Mark Snow was twice married, first to Anna Cooke and second to Jane, daughter of the Rev. Thomas Prince.
